S&G

Magazine for the Belgian horticulture and green areas. S&G is the magazine of the members from AVBS (General Federation of the Belgian ornamental growers) and it is published monthly.

There are a lot of topics and specific information for the specialised horticulture business published in S&G, such as the defence of the interests of his members, the social and fiscal legislation, plant protection, culture techniques and research related to economical matters and the sector in general. All the Flemish research institutions also report in S&G.

Because there is a great need for specialised information in the business, S&G also brings updated information about the defence of the interests of specialist growers in this business.
